Description of site

It is located in the city of al-Qanadisa, which is 15 km from the state headquarters. It was founded by Muhammad ibn Abd al-Rahman ibn Abi Zayan al-Qanadsi al-Jaza'iri in 1098 AH/1686 from the Sufi figures in the Saoura region.

Al-Zayaniyeh Al-Qundsiyah was established in the year 1098 AH, in the late 17th century. At that time, the zawiya had a mosque and a school for teaching the Qur'an and various other sciences. Al-Zawiya Al-Qundousia occupies an area of 65 thousand square meters and has several facilities, including a hall to receive guests. During the 18th century, the corner was prepared and the minaret of the mosque was built, during the era of the grandson of Sheikh Abu Madin bin Muhammad Al-Araj, who gave the corners of the mosque a unique Islamic mosaic inspired by Andalusia. .

Al-Zayaniyah Al-Qandsieh in the Wilayat of Bashar is a real destination for tourists and visitors coming from most of the states of the country, who stay in the hospitality of the residents of Al-Qunadsia for three days to revive the "promise" of Sidi Zian, which is marked by fraternity, rapprochement, and renunciation of differences. Such traditions maintain affiliation with The throne is passed on from generation to generation, and it is enshrined in various images and behaviors, including respect for the material and intangible heritage of the ancestors, whether on social occasions such as weddings, and on Islamic religious or cultural holidays, where the Candian Corner is one of the most important tourist routes that attract visitors, whether for religious tourism or It is also considered one of the most important tourist attractions in the state
